

Powering Up Your Canvas Course, Part 6

Beginner

1

Create Your First Assignment

Add your assignment instructions, choose your point values, and decide on a submission type. With online submission types, you have the option of Text Entry, Website URL, Media Recordings, and File Uploads. You can even restrict the file uploads to a particular file type. Add a due date and assign it to everyone or a few individual students.

How to Create an Assignment

2

Add a Discussion

Create a discussion thread for a problem of the week, for homework help, or a thought-provoking question. Reply to every student and recognize students who welcome each other. As an instructor, you can require students to post before they can read other replies giving the contributions more authenticity.

How to Create a Discussion

3

Annotate in SpeedGrader

When grading that first assignment, explore the annotating tools provided in the DocViewer of Speedgrader. You can Point, Highlight, use Free Text or Free Draw, and Area Annotation. Easy ways to leave feedback for your students.

How to Use Speedgrader Annotation Tools